You're a Grand Old Flag

By George M. Cohan

You're a grand old flag,
You're a high-flying flag,
And forever in peace may you wave.
You're the emblem of
The land I love,
The home of the free and the brave.

Ev'ry heart beats true
'Neath the Red, White and Blue,
Where there's never a boast or brag.
Should auld acquaintance be forgot,
Keep your eye on the grand old flag.

You're a grand old flag,
You're a high-flying flag,
And forever in peace may you wave.
You're the emblem of
The land I love,
The home of the free and the brave.

The Story Behind the Song

★ Cohan was a famous songwriter, actor, and producer, often called “The King of Broadway.” He wrote the song to capture the spirit and pride of America.

★ The song was first performed in the show and quickly became a favorite with audiences. It soon went beyond the theater and was sung at parades, schools, and patriotic events across the country.

★ Today, “You’re a Grand Old Flag” remains one of America’s most beloved patriotic songs, celebrating the flag and the values of freedom and courage it represents.
